Mrs. Harding passed into a coma she was unconscious. She was ill two weeks before the gravity of her condition became known outside of country estate of the Sawyers

Shortly after her busband's funeral,

Mrs. Harding moved out of the White Kept Free From Political House, returning to Marion, where she prepared to make her permanent home at peaceful White Oaks, surrounded by lifelong friends.

But even White Oaks was not without its tragedy. Two months ago Brigadier General Sawyer dropped dead very suddenly and the shock of his passing contributed appreciably to Mrs. Harding's decline.

Marion, where the name of Harding has been a household word for years and in whose cemetery the late president's body lies, was shocked immeasurably by Mrs. Hardin's death despite the fact it had been expected

At the time of passing of Brigadier General Sawyer, many close friends of Mrs. Harding predicted she could not live long without his skill as a physician and his long acquaintance with her case.

The fact that Dr. Sawyer had treated Mrs. Harding for many years was an important factor in his appointment by the president of personal physician to Mr. Harding when he became president. "Dr. Sawyer is the only man in the world who can really help my wife," the president said at the time "I am happy that he can be near us."

Douglas Raynor is found shot through the heart in the early evening on the floor of the sun room of Flower Acres, his Long Island home. Standing over the dead man, pistol in nand, is Malcolm Finley, former sweetheart of Raynor's wife, Nancy, Eva Turner Raynor's wife, Nancy, Eva Turner Raynor's murse, stands by the light switch. Then Nancy, her brother, Orville Kent; Ezra Goddard, friend of Finley; Miss Mattie, Raynor's sister, and others, enter the room. Lionel Raynor son of Douglas Raynor by first marriage, comes to claim his father's estate. Nurse Turner confesses to attempting to poison Douglas Raynor out of revenge. Pennington Wise, a celebrated detective and his girl assistant, Zizl, are called to take the case out of the hands of Detective Dobbins. Wise tells Orville Kent that an outsider is suspected of the murder because of the print of an overshoe found on the floor of the sun room.

Douglas Raynor is found shot that Lionel Raynor is more or less of a spiritualist—or, rather, that he believes in spirits and is mortally afraid of them. Now, I'll give him a manifestation that if it doesn't persuade him to give up that will, at least will prove that he has suppressed or destroyed it."

"It might be a good thing." Wise said, meditatively. "I know your powers in that direction, Ziz—I mean in carrying out a scheme of that sort, and I say, go ahead. But do it now."

Soft, Supple Fabrics Favored By Milady For Smart Daytime Frocks

THE day of the stiff, heavy materials is over. The mode insists on soft, supple fabrics for daytime wear as well as for even. Mrs. O. J. Landry was awarded the ing gowns. Practically every smart shop is sponsoring kasha this season, and the new reps and woolen materials are mar-vels of lightness and warmth.

FRIDAY

A striking frock that blustrates the salient features of the daytime mode is made of soft rep. Its lines are the essence of grace and slenderness, for there is not a fold anywhere to break the effect of slimness and beight. Of course it is black, for the mode is quite as partial to this color as ever. But it is far from somber looking, owing to the use of colorful embroidery on the skirt and in the shape of a dog's head and in the lacquer-red undersleeves. The stitching is in gray and lacquerred, the latter note repeated in the | F in the facing of the collar. Another C feature that adds to the smartness of kan on the collar. This is a soft, becoming trimming and carries out the gray motif of the embroidery. A narrow belt of red leather, studded with nail-heads, is worn with this freek.

Just teeming with individuality is frock of navy charmeen, buttoned down the front with large steel buttons put on with red silk. A belt of slashed red suede, a wide cape collar. and plaited cuffs of red crepe combine to make it most attractive

TIMELY HINTS ON VEGETABLES

Timely Recipes for Cooking Them

The market offers an array of interesting vegetables this month. Cauliflower holds first place with many of us. This vegetable is a glorified cabbage and if well cooked is very delicate in flavor. Probably no vegetable is more sensituve to wrong treatment than cauliflower. It should not be cooked too long nor too fast. Remove the green leaves and soak the head of cauliflower in cold water until perfectly clean. Drain and steam until the stems are tender. The vegetable should be white - not brown-when done. If it turns brown it has been cooked too song and the flavor will be impaired. Place the cooked cauliflower in a round serving dish and pour over it a cream sauce to which one egg yolk and a tablespoon of lemon juice has been added. Another way of serving this vegetable is to put it in a baking dish with the sauce and cover it with dried crumbs. Rolled corn flakes are an easy substitute for bread crumbs. Place the dish ... the oven until the crumbs are brown.

Another way that cauliflower is often served is fried. Soak the head and separate it into flowers. Cook until tender, drain, and fry in butter until light brown, then sprinkle with rumbs, adding a little more butter if necessary. Season with salt and paprika. Corn flake crumbs may be used for this method. Because they are already golden brown, the time of frying will be lessened with advantage to the flavor of the vege-sauce can be served on the cauliflower. To make this aristocratic sauce, beat the yolks of two eggs slightly in a small pan. Add one tablespoon of lemon juice and stir beaten to bean pulp and mix thor-Add three tablespoons of butter and cook holding the pan over boiling water. When well blended over with melted butter and bake to add three more tablespoons of butter, a gol then two more. Remove from the heat as soon as the sauce is thick and smooth. Season with a dash of cayenne pepper and serve at once. The secret of a smooth Hollandaise is not to let it get too hot while cooking. The low temperature prevents curdling.

Brussels spronts, first cousin to the cauliflower, may be cooked in the sauce way. Keep them bright green by taking care not to over cook them A little soda added to the water helps to preserve their color

UNKNOWN BRANDS and Who Sell Them

Every successful food manufacturer has a certain proportion of each day's run which is so low in quality that he cannot sell it under his own advertised trade mark. What becomes of these goods? Who sells it, and who buys it?

Some retail grocer buys this low quality stuff, covered with pretty labels, at prices 10 to 20% lower than the cost of first quality advertised brands. This explains why a grocer often wants you to take something else when you ask for a staple article.

The Piggly Wiggly merchandising idea overcomes this uncertainty. It insures you first qualtiy goods of known reputation at prices which are often less than you pay for goods of doubtful reputation.

Every day is bargain day at Piggly Wiggly. Try one of our stores for a week and you will never again buy your foods in the
